PERCEPTION

PERCEPTION

For 87th edition of Milestones, the theme for 2010-2011 is Perception. Although this theme is not as concrete as past years, the yearbook staff has successfully attempted to document our school from different perspectives. Milestones has a new modern twist. We have updated layouts and have journalistically become stronger. The definition of perception is the act or faculty of apprehending by means of the senses or of the mind; cognition; understanding. Throughout our book you can perceive the underclassmen, the stage mangers, maintenance, and all people working without recognition or acknowledgment. Now what is your perspective of our school?

MY HOW THE TABLES HAVE TURNED

HOW DO YOU SEE THINGS?

The school welcomed 651 students in the 2010-2011 school year. Girls come from over 50 different zip codes everyday. The diverse group of students come together in their plaid every morning with the purpose to learn.

The adults on campus are an integral part of the school community with one hundred and sixty three faculty, staff, and coaches. Our eight years of intensive education provides all girls with a valuable basis for success.

PEOPLE

Eighth graders gather for a quick meeting in the pod. Mr. Womack, Mrs. Hassel, and Sra. Choppin talk to the Class of 2015 about the year ahead.

Whether we are reading all about it in English and History classes or becoming Lady Einsteins, school is not easy. Whenever we get snow days, it is a nice break from classes but our friends are greatly missed. Inside the halls, all girls study hard, laugh like crazy, and learn to integrate. Our teachers are supportive and encouraging through intensive course work. They plan classes that are tough, yet interesting and even takes us to conventions, a waste treatment plant, and sporting events. Because, academics are why we are here.

READ ALL ABOUT IT

MUCH ADO ABOUT ENGLISH

A vast array of books are selected for students to read each year from 5th to 12th grade. While the middle schoolers focus on "The Giver" and "Lord of the Flies", upper schoolers tackle more complicated classics like "Things Fall Apart" and "Othello". Students also study grammar, vocabulary, and poetry while reading these great works. From American literature to World literature, students read a wide variety of works and perfect their essay-writing craft, specifically in the notorious junior year term paper. Many grades also read quarterly outside reading books and present book trailers, posters, and bookmarks. Ms. Yancey's English classes even decorate paper leaves for their book reports. Some classes act out their stories, watch movie adaptations in the classroom, and write creative responses to the works. Mr. Christy's 6th grade Reading class continues to study and explicate the Peter Weir film "Dead Poets Society". Can't find anything to read? Just head to the library and they'll help you find the perfect read.

WHERE IN THE WORLD...

OH THE PLACES WE GO

From exciting class trips to independent AP Art History studies, student plaid ventures to dozens of city streets each year beyond those of middle Tennessee. This school year was no exception. Class trips to Birmingham, Chicago, Camp Laney, and Washington D.C. were successful as always. Each girl was able to catch a glimpse of an entirely different environment outside the "Halls"; while this can be nerve-racking, many adjusted to the new settings with ease, striving for more adventure. Mattie Rich, junior, shares a tid-bit of her journey to the Kansas City yearbook convention. She was impressed by the monstrous number of people attending the conference from schools nationwide. "... hundreds of students congregating with similar interests inspired the Milestones girls to strive for more in our own book. We met students who spent nearly 6 hours each week working on their award-winning yearbooks. The intensity was AWESOME!... (Even on the dance floor at the convention dance ;])."

A MINUET IN TIME

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Seventh graders commemorated George Washington's 126th birthday with a celebration on February 19th in Morrison Gymnasium. Since 1922, Harpeth Hall, and its predecessor Ward-Belmont, have marked George Washington's birthday with a celebration. Today, the George Washington Celebration is performed by the 7th-grade class as its American history studies curriculum coincides with the pageant. Every member of the class participates as a sailor, soldier or minuet dancer. The students rehearse for weeks, memorizing speeches and learning intricate marching routines and dances.

The event began with the announcement of three dozen guests, including Thomas Jefferson to Benjamin Franklin (all in authentic costumes). The procession was followed by an elaborate marching sequence by the soldiers and an energetic dance number by the sailors. There were several speeches by the dignitaries and a minuet dance performed by the guests.

The George Washington celebration gives students a chance to bring history to life and to think of America's independence and all the principles it embodies: the nobility of man, the value of democracy and the price of freedom.

NO SCHOOL!!! SNOW DAZE

The freshmen and sophomores got to experience the many snow days and late starts during Winterim this year. Many of the students enjoyed snowball fights and sledding, while others sat by the fire with a cup of hot cocoa. We had three snow days total and a few other late starts which got the students and faculty really excited. "It was about time, we deserved one," said Meredith Beyer '13. Although it took away precious Winterim time, most thought it was definitely worth it. The campus was beautifully decorated in a soft white coat of snow. Students were able to enjoy a few days off while not having to worry about the stress of normal academics and assignments.

Center Top: Freshhman Hannah Peterson, Conleigh Werkhaven, MaryKathryn Kopp, Meg Henderson, Carrie Ferrelli, and Sarah Pagnani bundle up in their warmest clothes after an on campus snow ball fight.

BUZZ WORD: STEM

TEACH ME HOW TO INTEGRATE

The STEM program immerses students in science, technology, engineering, and math. The school recently won a grant of $250,000 to build The Center for STEM Education for Girls, which seeks to encourage girls to pursue their interests in STEM related topics. The science department introduces students to biology, chemistry, and physics. Technology is integrated into the classroom as students become experts on their laptops. In math, girls tackle real-world problems. After all, inspiration STEMs from learning.

HANDS ON LEARNING
LADY EINSTEINS

Science classes explore all aspects of the hands on scientific community. From natural habitats to anatomy and physiology, the science department offers quite a variety! While sixth graders thrive over cells and simple machines, Upper School students practice genetic studies and cat dissections. One of the most memorable Middle School projects is the balloon launch conducted in fifth grade. Building hot air balloons out of tissue paper, the girls learn about the principles of flight. In the Upper School, physics students experiment with the principles of friction in the Hovercraft simulation. As one can see, despite all the brainpower needed, Science can still be fun!

HOW THE OTHER HALF LIVES

WINTERIM 2011

While the juniors and seniors were off campus, the freshmen and sophomores got to take a wide variety of interesting classes and practice their leadership skills. The 38th annual Winterim was unlike any other. It included new classes, such as the Harry Potter 101 class, and old favorites, like The Kennedys. While the snow may have taken a few days away from the three-week period, the students did not let this damper their spirits. Lud Goldberg machines took over Ms. Vest's room and tiny turtle soaps sit on Dr. Ufnar's desk as testaments to the girls' enthusiasm.

The underclassmen held their own forum to discuss issues they felt were important to the school, honing their leadership skills. Meanwhile, juniors and seniors were busy conquering Nashville and the world. They participated in internships in Nashville, Washington D.C., New York City, New Orleans, San Francisco, and many more. Students also traveled overseas to help orphans in Uganda, exchange to France and Spain, discover the wonders of Italy and China, and fought human trafficking in Cambodia. Wherever they were, girls were making a difference.

MILESTONEZz

A CULT OF GIRLS WHO MEET EACH WEDNESDAY TO PRODUCE A BOOK OF MEMORIES TO LAST A LIFETIME

The Milestones staff worked hard throughout the year to accomplish the theme of "Persception." The staff and editors spent the whole year putting together a book that captures everyones point of view. Whether it was putting together spreads or spending countless hours trying to get quotes the Milestones staff always had fun designing and creating. With the collaboration of great editors and hard working staff, this years staff went beyond the concrete themes of the past and went abstract.

LIFE IN TECHNICOLOR

WITH THIS NEON PERSPECTIVE, YOU'RE GONNA NEED SHADES.

"Girls, we are finally seniors. That felt very bizarre to say. My whole life just flashed by in a montage with the Fray playing in the background."

SUNDAY-FUNDAY

SUNDAY ON SOUBY BRINGS TOGETHER ALL MEMBERS OF THE HARPETH HALL FAMILY.

October 10th, 2010, a sunny Sunday, hundreds gathered on Souby Lawn for a fun filled afternoon. The second annual Sunday on Souby brought together local Nashvillians, in addition to our school community. Festivities were underway by two o'clock, with live music pumping in the background and children sliding down the inflatable slide. Clubs set up booths for the kids, food overflowed, and the dads watched a football game. Meanwhile, the Honeybear popped in to greet the crowd. From jumping up and down to folding origami to enjoying performances, the crowd never ran out of things to do.

"Sunday on Souby was a very fun event which brought together lots of students from various schools. I encourage everyone to go next year!"

UN-MASKED

This year's Halloween was quite the spooky celebration in the haunted "Halls". Goblins, ghosts, witches, wizards, and even star trek characters crowded the halls in an excited frenzy. All of the girls were a sight to see; even Mrs. Maxwell joined in the festivities with her classic "Alma Mater school girl" Halloween costume. The fifth and sixth graders put on their annual Halloween carnival, full of exciting games and sugar-filled candy. Each advisory created their own Halloween booth, and all of the students' families along with children of alumni came to join in the fun. The upper-school student council planned the annual Halloween dance in Morrison gym. The dance was a true "monster mash" with every girl and guest dressed in their finest costumes. Avatars, Indians, flappers, pumpkins, and more danced the night away to classic Halloween hits.

TEA-TIME

GRANDPARENTS AND SPECIAL FRIENDS JOIN TOGETHER TO RAISE THEIR PINKIES AND TOAST TO THEIR GIRLS

On November 22, 2010 the middle school hosted the annual Grandparents and Special Friends' Tea. Students were elated to show their family and friends their art work, school projects, and academic classrooms. The middle school choirs and dance companies performed several songs and dances for their guests. Following these performances, students guided their guests around the middle school, introduced them to teachers and friends, and shared a great afternoon together.

JUST DANCE!

DANCING AWAY ON A FROSTY WINTER NIGHT, GIRLS AND THEIR DATES ARE ALL DRESSED UP WITH SOME PLACE TO GO

Beautiful dresses, high-heels, handsome dates, fantastic friends, a penguin named Mumbles, and teacher chaperons, what more could a girl ask for on winter formal? February 5th, 2011was truly a magical night. The student council did a wonderful job decorating; the gym was transformed into a winter wonderland using Christmas lights as decorations. The dance floor was packed with girls and their dates, showing off their most practiced and anticipated moves. Lil' John's hit, "Get Low" pounded through the speakers as students sang along to the catchy lyrics. The combination of friends and potential romance contributed to making Winter Formal a fantastic and memorable night.

LOCKED IN THE DINING ROOM

DANCING THE NIGHT AWAY AND WATCHING A CHICK FLICK

It's a right of passage, once you hit 7th grade, middle school mixers begin. From an outside gathering at the beginning of school to laser tag, community service and dances, the 7th and 8th grade classes join with MBA at least once a quarter for some sort of social activity. And, as featured on this spread, the 8th grade gals like to gather, on occasion, just as a class.

This particular "movie night" the girls came in pajamas, brought blankets, and spent a couple hours watching a movie and socializing with each other. They painted their nails and danced with the dj. These mixers provide opportunities for classmates to bond in a non-academic setting, and fond memories are always made at these fun events.

HAUS OF GAGA

PROM 2011- A TIME WHEN ALL THE MONSTERS COME OUT TO PLAY.

April 16th, 2011 was the biggest night of the year for the upperclassmen. With big shoes to fill after last year's "Night in Wonderland" , the junior class chose the theme of "Haus of Gaga". The building was filled with decorations such as origami stars, a hanging disco heart, white pom pom flowers, and a photo booth. All of the little monsters came out to "just dance" the night away underneath a giant, floating red heart. The night began with a surprise dance by a few talented sophomores under the choreography of junior Tori Dickerson. Presentation followed with an unrecognizable Ms. Klocko dressed as Lady Gaga. Seniors and juniors alike enjoyed the prom, staying until they could no longer "dance in the dark".

Top Left: Gray Wallace, Claire Johnson, Kat Caire and Lady Gaga are beyond happy that the presentation went well, and are excited to "Move it Like Bernie" on the dance floor.

On May 23rd, 2011, the largest 8th grade class to graduate from the Daugh W. Smith Middle School was honored at the 42nd Annual Honor Day ceremony. Allie Rose Gregg was elected to give an Honor Day Speech, and she likened her class to a stain – colorful, spontaneous on contact and hard to remove. "Stains act as memories," she said, they represent where you have been.
To Allie Rose, the Class of 2015 is a "complex, mosaic" of stains. But on closer inspection, said Allie Rose, you can see patterns in the stains. Those patterns for the Class of 2015 include a "consistency of values," kind hearts, and a shared love of music. Mrs. Bryant then spoke and encouraged the 8th graders to continue to surround themselves with positive, productive relations, to expand their outlooks, and to hold to their high expectations of themselves as they begin their high school journey next fall.

WE SAY GOODBYE TO THE CLASS OF 2011 AS WE WELCOME THE LEADERS OF THE 2011-2012 SCHOOL YEAR

Seniors sang "You'll Be in My Heart" by Phil Collins, followed by the juniors' "You've Got a Friend in Me" by Randy Newman at the annual Step Singing Ceremony on May 22. Although the ceremony was moved to the auditorium because of weather, it was a beautiful event nonetheless. Kate Wiseman, Lady of the Hall senior class representative crowned Kat Milam as the Lady of the Hall. To end the ceremony, successful author and former teacher Adam Ross addressed the audience in his speech about failure, which ultimately leads to success.

FARE THEE WELL

TRADING PLAID FOR WHITE DRESSES, THE SENIOR CLASS OF 2011 SAYS GOODBYE TO THE HALLS.

The eighty girls of the Class of 2011 celebrated their commencement ceremony at their graduation on Monday, May 23. Barely escaping the impending rain storms, the weather was perfect as the girls descended Souby Lawn in their long white dresses. First, each class of the Upper School proceeded to their seats on the lawn, followed by the faculty, clad in robes and the colors of their alma maters. Finally, to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance" the seniors began their procession. Elaine Sulc, Kelsea Best, and Parker Davis received Third Honors, Salutatorian, and Valedictorian, respectively. The chosen Graduation Speaker was the humorous Abby Smith. To end the ceremony, seniors received their diplomas and walked through an applauding crowd of proud faculty members.

A PALETTE OF COLORS LIKE YOU'VE NEVER SEEN BEFORE

Say goodbye to ROYGBIV, a new palette is in town! The 2010-2011 school year was painted in an electrifying COLOR SCHEME. The senior theme, Neon Eleven, gave the halls a vivid spectrum of life. Flamingo pink stained the senior house doors, lime tinted hats topped the girls' heads, and yellow highlighters made class notes that much more lively. There was certainly a fair share of "NEON FUN in 0- 1- 1."

"My favorite song was the I Love You song. Great music, great performances, and fantastic lights (designed by Zach Sternberg)."
Eleanor Weeks (Stage Manager)

"My favorite number was Pandemonium because I was in charge of making sure the adult volunteer knew what to do and didn't get hurt! I taught he or she how to hula-hoop and made sure he/she stayed out of the way of all the chaos."

-Anna Russell Thornton (Marcy)

"My favorite number was Magic Foot. It was so much fun because we worked really hard on it and put all of our energy into it to make it the best it could be."

LIFE IS PANDEMONIUM

THE TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS OF SPELLERS AT THE BEE

The MBA- Harpeth Hall joint musical, the 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee, opened on August 25th, 2010. The upbeat musical tells the story of young, eager spellers participating in the county bee. There is Chip (John Elam), the champion of last year's bee, Logainne (Anna Carro), the liberal child of two fathers, Marcy (Anna Russell Thornton), who is seemingly all business, Leaf Coneybear (Hunter Woolwine/Ford Altenbern), whose whole family is there to support him, Olive (Jean Broadhurst), whose best friend is the dictionary and William (Chris Goodrich), who has many health issues.

After weeks of strenuous rehearsal, the show opened with a nearly full house every night. There was tons of laughter nightly, especially because of the audience participants. The musical had guest stars, such as Mrs. Teaff, Mr. Womack, and Mrs. Maxwell. The audience was involved in other ways, like having certain sections cheer for certain spellers. Overall, the show was fun for both the cast and the audience. Like the spellers, the audience learns that winning is not everything, that they really are smart, that they do not have to live up to expectations, and that life is pandemonium.

Chris Netterville as the Bandit and Claire Crawford as the Wife lean in for a kiss.

"My part involves writing transition music and themes for a couple of the characters and playing during performances. The coolest part about my job was getting to play for an epic fight scene.
A lot of time went into the little things that the audience wouldn't think twice about. Perfecting the fight scenes without anyone getting hurt took multiple tries, tons of leaves and twigs had to be gathered every day, and the make-up for Claire and Lindsey took about 30 minutes. It was a pretty high maintenance show!"
-Anna Carro (Original Music)

"I played the role of the Wigmaker, who is an old woman, and to whom the story is being told. There were many awesome things about my role: I got to act completely gross by scratching myself, coughing loudly, and making phlegmatic noises. I also had to tease my hair every night as part of my costume, and that was always a fun time."
-Katie Beach (Wigmaker)

"I think that a lot of people just really don't know how much work we all put in. Everyone sees sports team practice, but I feel like a lot of people don't realize that we have just as much practice time for the performing arts. Also, everyone hears about how much fun we have in shows, but we also work really hard to put on a good show."
-Autumn Maxwell-Pruitt (Props)

IT'S A LIE!

TRUTH IS LIKE A FIREFLY: NOW YOU SEE IT, NOW YOU DON'T

Rashomon, the Upper School fall play, unveiled the story of a Japanese couple traveling in the woods and their encounter with a bandit. All three appear in court and tell their stories, which all end with the husband being murdered. Each story is told by the Woodcutter (Hunter Woolwine) or the Priest (Eric Walsh) at the Rashomon Gate to the Wigmaker (Katie Beach) as they reflect on their day in court. The Bandit (Chris Netterville), the Wife (Claire Crawford), and the Husband (Hoke Smith) each tell their stories. However, the Woodcutter reveals that he had actually seen the whole crime. But he too has something to hide and the audience is left to wonder which version was closest to the truth. After all, people only say what they want the world to believe.

The cast and crew worked hard every day, finding props, learning how to pronounce the Japanese words, painting the bamboo for the set, making Japanese kimonos, and learning how to sword fight. Before the shows, hair and makeup would take more than an hour to finish. However, their hard work paid off when the show finally opened at the end of October.

I HOPE I GET IT

STEP, KICK, KICK, LEAP, KICK, TOUCH...AGAIN!

The smell of hairspray was in the air. Every dancer crowded into the little theater, with anticipation for opening night growing. After receiving some encouraging words from Ms. Hammy, the dancers wait excitedly in the wings, until the lights dim and they step out on to the stage.

While other students crammed for the last few tests before the Thanksgiving Break, the dancers were putting in the extra hours to make the 2010 Fall Dance concert the best yet. All of the music included in the concert was created by members of the Honeybear family–alumni, current students, faculty, and parents. This talented group of contributors included Reese Witherspoon, Amy Grant, Jasmine Miller, Jesse Steere, Martina McBride, and Ke$ha. This brought a whole new level of involvement to the show. The dancers performed an array of dances for a large,lively audience. Modern, Hip hop, jazz, ballet, and even choreography were showcased. "Putting Yourself On the Line" was the theme of the show as well as a lyric from the showstopper, "I Hope I Get It". Audience favorites included the Upper School hip-hop dance to a Ke$ha remix and the choreography dance. The middle school students danced to several songs, including works written and performed by Jasmine Miller '09.

QUOTES

"The "Putting Yourself on the Line" theme was particularly fun, since we were able to do pieces with the original choreography to A Chorus Line. All of our music was connected to Harpeth Hall in some way, which made it harder to vary the music selections, but it was an interesting challenge. " - Natalie May

"I thought it was a really great show! The senior duets were beautiful, and I loved the theme of "Music from the Harpeth Hall Family"." - MaryKathryn Kopp

"It is a big commitment to do dance company. You have to be willing to put in the after school hours but it is all worth it!" - Ellen Spivey

Above: Lindsey Lanquist, Gabi Rheinboldt, Claire Roberts, Arianna Frederick sashay under the soft purple lights.

"My favorite part of the dance concert is the feeling of being onstage performing the dances I have been working on for a long time. My favorite kind of dance is the regular dance that anyone can do if they sign up. I like this because it isn't a specialty type of dance that restrains what type of movement we can do."
-Maddie Peterson (7th grade)

"My favorite part of dance concert is the first show, during circle with all of the dancers. My adrenaline is rushing and I love seeing all of the other girls getting excited. My favorite kind of dance is probably modern, tap, or ballet. I love the loose feeling of modern, the challenge of tap, and the structure, order, and perfection of ballet."
-Arianna Frederick (Freshman)

"I love dancing because I have always been very energetic and it allows me to use my energy in a fun way.Every year something goes wrong during a concert. A shoe goes missing, or someone misses their number. Luckily, we are able to pull it off in the end. "
-Gisele Umehire (Senior)

2010 FALL DANCE CONCERT

Tori Dickerson, Gisele Umehire, Noni Hill, Grace Cummings dance to "I Hope I Get It", a dance number based on actual musical auditions.

EV'RYBODY WANTS TO BE A CAT

BECAUSE A CAT'S THE ONLY CAT WHO KNOWS WHERE IT'S AT

This year, the 7th and 8th grade performed "The Aristocats Jr." as the Middle School musical. The girls presented the story of the aristocratic cat Duchess and her kittens. The kittens' wealthy owner leaves her fortune to them, and the jealous butler Edgar steals the cats, fleeing to the French countryside. In order to get back to their owner, the cats have to work with stray cats Thomas O'Malley and Scat Cat. The plot provided the audience with many laughs and musical numbers to bob their heads to.

"Katherine Saul was hilarious as Abigail Gabble, the goose. Her waddle was down to a tee," said Keely Hendricks '16. Jazz and blues inspired songs from the musical included "Everybody Wants To Be A Cat" and "Stray Cat Strut". The girls strutted around stage dressed as characters ranging from farm animals to a high society heiress. Needless to say, the set was booming with creativity and the costumes were feline inspired. The production went off without a hitch thanks to a great cast and crew!

Right: Maddie Peterson, Maria Rose-Zink, Bethany Johnson, and Anna Paterson dance as part of the Kitty and Puppy Choir.

Right BJ Newell, Huda Naviad, and Allie Chambers, as the Duchess and her kittens, worry about their new lives out on the street.

Caroline Sandrell (center). From left: Eliza Trost, Haley Huff, Jhe'Dienne Adams, Lizzy LeBleu, and Caroline Bauerschmidt sing about how great it is to be a cat.

QUOTES

"Crazy man, crazy" - Hep Cat

"Oh, we're not chickens...we're geese" - Abigail

"A-a-ah-choo" - Edgar

"We're all the same under the fur.... Gimme some skin!" - Scat Cat

"I'm having you shipped off to Timbuktu!" - Edgar

Above: The cast takes a bow after finishing the show.

"I was Edgar, the evil butler. I loved it! Even though I wasn't very excited about dressing up like a man, it was such a fun role and I'm so grateful I got it. I really loved being with friends and creating a new "family" with my cast members." Anna Kathryn Groom

"I was Madame and I liked it because I got to really overact and be really silly. I loved being will all of my friends and having a good time singing, acting, and dancing."- Grace Turner

"I was Napoleon, the country dog. I really enjoyed my role because we are a lot alike, and I got make the audience laugh. There was a countless number of fun things done behind the scenes, like taking funny pictures, making up our own dances to the numbers we were in, and so much more." - Lark Morrison

EVERYBODY DIGS A SWINGIN' CAT

Claire Crawford toasts "To all of us" at the end of the play, with the whole cast gathered around the table.

Its structure was really unique, where it was composed of just a bunch of different individual scenes. The mimed swinging door was pretty spiffy. I was on the costume crew and on opening night I was nervous like anyone, but really excited that all the hard work would finally pay off.
- Sarah Mulloy

"The unique part of this show was that everyone played multiple roles. This forced us to make each character articulate and different from the others. It also challenged us to explore different kinds of body languages, tones of voice, and general characterization to match the qualities of our characters. It was a challenge but I think everyone really enjoyed the opportunity to try something different." Claire Crawford

My favorite role was Sarah who was a teenager that had been kicked out of boarding school and meddles in drinking and drugs. It was SO fun to be her because, needless to say, she does not resemble who I am. The part really excited me and I had a lot of fun with being a rebellious teenager.
Adelaide Morphett

QUOTES:

"And it's a beautiful lamb, Standish"-Emily

"Children! Children! This is the dining room. This is not the monkey house at the zoo" - Peggy

"Yes and look what happened to Saint Joan!" - Grace

"Don't be late. Say good morning to the driver. Sit quietly in the car. Work Hard. Run. Run. Goodbye" - Father

A ROOM AFTER MY OWN HEART

"TO ALL OF US"

"No feeling can match that of opening night. It's exciting, overwhelming, nerve wrecking, and rewarding. After working on a show for so long you begin to question if people will like it. Hearing the first laughs from the audience assured us that our work was worth the while. It's the best feeling in the world!" says Claire Crawford. And on March 3rd, the audience certainly did laugh.

The Dining Room is unique show for many reasons. In rehearsals, the actors used the Whelan Tape Technique. They would tape their scene downstairs and then come up to the stage to act out the scene without speaking.

The Dining Room is a series of vignettes, all about the decline of the dining room as a room of importance. Each actor played at least four different characters, from a child sitting at the table with her strict conservative father to complaining teenagers drinking at the table to a WASP defending her culture. The scenes ranged from funny, like a birthday party, to heartbreaking, such as scene of a father refusing to let his daughter come back home.

Far Left: Adelaide Morpett asks Carrie Ferelli if she wants another drink after ranting about how awful it is to eat as a family in the dining room.

Above: Ellie Hitt as the Architect tries to convince Maggie Griswold as the Psychiatrist to get rid of her dining room and create an office.

"Drama Club was a lot of fun and all the actresses became a family. Playing Stratos was the most fun because he was was fearless but funny. Kind of like me!"
- Margot May (Stratos)

"I really enjoyed stepping into someone's shoes for a while. It's like reading about someone, and then, living that person's life, and you have their attitude and what makes it themselves, you have to nail it. It was really fun!" -Ashley Zhu (Lutio)

"I really liked how we got to perform in front of an audience. It was a great way to overcome shyness and to make friends." -Siobhan Efionayi (Dia)

QUOTES

"I think I need the bucket" - Margot May as a seasick Stratos

"Into the darkness Theseus went. Down deep into the Labyrinth" - Athenian chant

"Snip, Snip, Snip!"- Erica Massey as a Fate ready to snip the life thread of the Athenians

"The Minotaur is a monster. Half man, half bull. He eats flesh. Human flesh. Still want to meet him first?" - Siobhan Efianayi as Dia

THOSE NUTTY MINOANS

THESEUS SLAYS THE MINOTAUR AND SAVES ATHENS

In order to avoid war with the Minoans, every seven years, the sons and daughters of Athens go to the agora where they are chosen by lottery to set sail for Crete and never be seen again. Theseus, Prince of Athens, places his name in the last lottery and promises his father, King Aegeus, that he will return with his people. The Three Fates are confronted by Athena who plots with Artemis and Aphrodite to save her hero from the dreadful Minotaur. Theseus slays the Minotaur and follows the thread which Ariadne, Princess of Crete, has given him to find his way out of the labyrinth. The Minoan royal family is left in an uproar. The Athenians return home. Long live Theseus, slayer of the minotaur! Athenian tweens in the market with their friendships, Minoan guards just doing their jobs,sibling rivalry, and Fates versus the Olympians. The cast and support team were just like the Athenians: They had to pull together in order to get to curtain call. They created a great evening of drama!

HH's GOT TALENT

A NIGHT OF PURE ENTERTAINMENT

It was finally here, the Upper School talent show. For weeks, students had been anxiously awaiting until they could see their friends dance, play music, or even get into an epic karate battle on stage. Hundreds of students and faculty, as well as guests from other schools gathered in the Davis theater as talented acts showed off their local abilities. In between acts "Jammer" Meadows, Gisele Umuhire, and Catherine Smith entertained the audience and held raffles for prizes such as gift cards and even the coveted Senior hat.

Right: Meg Henderson dramatically looks into the distance as she belts a Broadway ballad.

Bonnie Scott and Kynlie Freeman sing "Blackbird."

QUOTES:

"Performing for me is sort of an out of body experience, scary yet comfortable."- Meg Henderson

"We choreographed a dance with Tyler Dixon, Ugo Ananaba, Natalie Reiman, Alli Crew, Gisele Umuhire, Annalee Mueck, and Grace Cummings. It wasn't stressful we were all doing it to have a good time." - Meggie Hill

"I sang with Gisele & Rebecca in our singing group "RAG" It was fun to interact with the crowd and perform with my friends!" - Alli Crew

"My favorite part was the adrenaline right before the music started. WE were the last act. It's surprisingly a lot more nerve-racking to perform in front of your friends than it is to be judged in competitions. But it was fun to hear everyone screaming our names and cheering us on!" - Elaina Mishu (dancer)

"I showed off my two years worth of karate moves with my brother, Ty, as my victim. My favorite part was when I balanced longer with the tree, it was so cool. Also kicking my brother in the side of his stomach was really good because it doesn't hurt him, it actually angers him more." - Tian Carney (karate)

"I was nervous because at the end there is a crazy solo part, that of course Adele can sing, but normal people like me can't...Well I ended up kinda hitting the notes and forgot to sing the next few lines because I was surprised. It was pretty cool. My lungs didn't fail me this time"
- Logan Day (singer)

WE NEED TO SING WITH ALL THE VOICES OF THE MOUNTAINS

FIVE HUNDRED TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND SIX HUNDRED MINUTES OF MUSIC

"Music is an essential part of life. It's been that way since the beginning of time, in any form be it the ancient lyre to an electric guitar. The world would be a pretty dull place without music," says Huda Navaid. The music concerts bring this vital ingredient in the recipe of life to Harpeth Hall. The choirs sing everything from popular show tunes like "Colors of the Wind" and "Seasons of Love" to recent popular classics like "Hello Goodbye" to slow, moving songs like "Weep No More." The orchestra also has a wide assortment of songs from "Queen of Sheba" to "Kanon" to "Irish Party" to a medley of Lady Gaga songs. There was something for everyone to enjoy.

QUOTES

"I enjoy performing because I like to entertain and I love the feeling I get when I know that an audience really enjoyed a concert. My favorite song was Aint No Grave because it has a good message, it's really powerful and it's fun to sing!" - Anna Carro

"I was in choir and loved to perform the songs we learned. My favorite song would have to be Colors of the Wind. Music provides another way to express my feelings and my outer self." - Hailey Lund

"I enjoy performing because I like showing off all the talent that my chorus and I have! Music plays a very large role in my life. My dad and my brother play the guitar and my other brother plays the piano. I love singing. I always sing nonstop in my house and at school! " - Lia Hayduck

"I enjoy performing with my entire orchestra because we are able to display our hard work, and it pays off through a great performance. Music has always been a big part of my life (ever since I was 6). It teaches me discipline and how to be a hard worker." - Amna Asad

"For me, music is something that is always there, and in a this ever-changing world, it is reassuring to have music. I can listen to, play, practice, or even attempt composing." - Natalie Brewer

FOUR NIGHTS OF ORCHESTRAL AND CHORAL MUSIC

The middle school choir serenades the audience during their winter concert.

"I like to dance because I feel free when I do. It makes me feel like I've become something other than human, more like water, less confined. I love the feeling of energy and heart and soul shooting out of you hands and feet when they extend in a dance. You can also connect to people differently, you become all one body moving to express a certain feeling."- Grace Hawkins

"Using your body to express emotions along with interesting pieces of music can be very exhilirating. When I'm in the moment, just doing a dance to express its meaning, I feel like I've gone to my own world or could fly to the top."
- Grace Hong

"I love dance because it makes you feel graceful in a magnificent way, it allows you to express yourself, and there is nothing that makes you feel more free than when you are dancing." - Sloane Witten

QUOTES:

"Something I've learned this year is that it's not really me walking onto the stage. Every dance tells a story, and so I get to be a different character for each one." - Millie Wert

"I have learned that its not about how perfect it is, but about how you show it on and off stage. Also, if you do it more full out, it is more likely that you will enjoy it more." - Alana Oppenheimer

"I love dance because it is a place where I can be creative and learn to perfect my art. The teachers and other dances are great to work with. I also love all of the excitement of tech week." - Meredith Byer

Right: Maria-Rose Zink, Haley Beth Huff, and Anna Leigh Turner leap onstage, showing off their excellent dance skills.

ONE SINGULAR SENSATION

KICKING IT UP ONE FINAL TIME

The final dance performance for the 2010-2011 school year was a great way to end the performing arts. The dancers worked long hours to perfect their craft for the excited, awaiting audiences. Seniors gave their greatest effort for their last dances on the Davis Auditorium Stage. The theme for the 2011 spring dance concert was "Family Ties", which meant all the songs were connected with the school community in some way. Some of the songs were even by our own students, including Caroline Williams and Kiya Lacey.

Tori Dickerson, a junior explains her experience throughout the dance program.
"I love dance because it allows me to show how I feel when words cannot do justice. It makes me feel free, and I do it because it's a better release than any other mindless think I could think of," said Tori.
The dance concert serves as a challenging but rewarding activity for many students at this school. The spring dance concert was able to successfully showcase the talents of many dancers of all ages and levels.

Wallace Morgan hugs her dad after a successful art show.

"I have always considered art to be a glimpse into the artist's mind. Art illustrates how the artist views the world around them. Painting means a lot to me because it is a cool way to express creativity and imagination, and it allows me to reflect. After I reached the point in my art classes where I was no longer restricted by rules and specific projects my art really started to change. Until this point I did not have the chance to take risks and challenge my technique."
- Monique Hagler

"Art is a way to express your yourself and turn your emotions into something beautiful. Whenever I am working on any type of art, I am always able to forget what is bothering me and escape into my own world.My art has improved over the years because I have become more willing to take risks. I am now able to think outside the box, which has made me more confident in my artwork."
- Jamie DuBois

"To me, art is a form of expression (emotions, views, philosophies, etc.) It is my release, and my passion. It is more that just putting a pencil on paper or paint on canvas. Art is an immortal form of life." - Tori Dickerson

STUDENT WORK TAKES CENTER STAGE

ART STUDENTS SHOW OFF THEIR BEST WORK AROUND THE SCHOOL

The Art Show featured many pieces of art ranging from hand drawn and painted pieces to photography. The students whose works were displayed invested a lot of time in creating masterpieces. The artists had strong feelings about what the skill meant to them. "Art is a way of expressing yourself by adding a twist of 'you' into every assignment," said Molly Crofford. The art and photography classes helped many students become stronger and more mature with their talents. Emily Martin said, "I am more experienced and I have learned a lot about technique." The students were proud to have to opportunity to display their best works of art in the Gallery and the Art Building. "My favorite piece that I created was my bleached ink drawing of a 1950s tractor," said Leah Shaw .

It was really weird not being in control once my actors went onstage, but I loved being able to watch the final product. I also liked being able to determine the direction of the show. It felt weird being on the other side of the rehearsal process!"
- Lilly Carver (Director)

I loved playing the part of Penny in my one act. I was a sweet but needy girlfriend who had a mental break down- an interesting role, but it was a lot of fun! I had never played that sort of role before, so I learned a lot about expressing different emotions and bringing out a character that is different from my normal personality.
- Sarah Hill (Penny)

"One Acts are always super relaxed and you can go all out with your characters. Alex Floyd busted open a bag of flavor blast gold fish on stage on opening night. It was totally unplanned"
- Rebecca Sanders (DMV Lady)

STRANGER DANGER

THEY'RE CLIMBING IN YOUR WINDOWS AND SNATCHING YOUR PEOPLE UP

The directors sit anxiously in their seats, awaiting their final production. There is nothing they can do other than believe in their actors. The actors, hearts pounding, recall their lines for the last time. The audience quiets down as the house lights dim, indicating the beginning of the performance. Harpeth Hall One Acts are unique because Theater II students are the directors. On April 14, 2011, the young artists' hard work was displayed for friends, family and faculty in the Davis Bond Theater. DMV Tyrant, directed by Anna Russell, told the story of a frustrated customer trying to get his license renewed by a DMV tyrant. The Blizzard, directed by Ellie Hitt, was about a couple stuck in their cottage in the woods when a mysterious, sinister couple arrives at their door. Wanda's Visit, directed by Lilly Carver, was the story of a husband and wife who are visited by the husband's crazy ex-girlfriend. Double Date, directed by Daisy Davis,, was about a man having a mental breakdown, torn between his ex and current girlfriend. In Christmas Breaks, directed by Meggie Hill, Marcie is dumped, but proceeds to go on a blind date.

This glimpse into the daily lives of our athletes and coaches covers a lot of "turf." Forty teams compete during the school year, 25 middle school and 15 upper school in 10 different middle school sports and 11 different upper school.

Nearly 90% of middle school students compete on an athletic team, with 52% of upper school students sporting the green and gray. There are 34 coaches in the middle school and 25 in the upper school.

UPPER SCHOOL CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS BLAZE THROUGH THEIR COURSES.

Before the race, runners Leslie Rolfe, Adelaide Morphett, Lillie Howell, Maddie Shankle, and Hallie Aston run sprints to get in the mood. To pump up their energy, girls perform their pre-meet rituals: some girls pace, some listen to music, and some start doing the next day's chemistry homework. Whatever their rituals are, the girls are all ready to stride to the finish line.

RUN FOREST RUN!

AND SPEED THROUGH A GREAT SEASON

The cross country team kicked off the preseason with the annual cross country camp. Girls danced to Waka Waka, ran twice a day, and bonded with the senior runners. Before every meet, girls joined together in a huge pinky circle and chanted, "The will to win cannot be beat - you gotta wanna win! RLH!" Memorable meets include the Kenwood Classic, in which the varsity won first place, and the VCCC Conference, in which both JV and Varsity won first. At the Metro meet, JV and Varsity ran to a double first place victory, and at the climatic state meet, Varsity won third place. Especially impressive was the fact that Kate Wiseman missed 2/3 of the season before earning All-State honors with the fastest state meet time of her career. Girls got creative during Senior Workout Day and Tacky Day. The team was characterized by their bonds with each other. Adelaide Morphett said of the other runners, "I'm so proud to know them and call them my teammates!

Left to Right: Kate Wiseman, Olivia Hurd, Dr. Jack, Caroline Hawkins, Kate Richardson, Allie Miller McNamara, Liza Hill, Allison Holland, Allie Polk,Ms. Jervis, and Mr. Wert. The varsity runners, who are affectionately called the "Oh mys!", often wake up early on Saturday mornings to run 5K meets. The JV girls are the "Bears", and other runners are "Lions" and "Tigers". Together, they make up, "Lions, Tigers, and Bears, Oh My!"

Left to Right: McCall Hagler, Kynlie Freeman, Lillie Howell, Kathleen Lang, Rowan Griscom, and Ellie Hitt deck out in green for the meet. IN THE USN MEET, THE TEAM GOT A PERFECT SCORE OF 15, FINISHING 1ST, 2ND, 3RD, 4TH, AND 5TH

The Middle School Cross Country team won the HVAC championship this year. The team's motto "the will to win cannot be beat, you gotta wanna win!" encouraged the girls and helped them win numerous meets and advance in their skill of long distance running. Kate Capizzi said that her team was "always very happy and working hard." At one particular meet on USN's river campus, the team was extremely dedicated, despite the chilly weather. Although the practices were hard work, Delaney Jacoway said "Practices were so much fun and very different from other teams' practices." Throughout the long season, each girl improved to help the Bears come out on top!

SWINGING' FOR SUCCESS

BIRDIE, EAGLE, HOLE IN ONE!

The Middle School Golf team concluded another successful season under Coaches Marees Choppin and Robert Womack. The team traveled to HVAC championship and won once again! This was the Honey Bears 3rd year to take home the title. The triumphant middle schoolers loved every minute of another fantastic season. Reed Shirley sums up the season saying, "I really enjoy golf, and the golf team made me LOVE it, have fun, and strive for excellence."

COACH MOE PLAYS HIS LAST ROUND WITH HIS BELOVED HONEY BEARS...

Many members of the upper school team claim this to be the most fun that they have ever had on a sports team. They were dedicated and worked hard in the practices- but also had a great time. Coach Moe was the head coach of the US golf team. Emily Apple exclaims, "Coach Moe was one of the best coaches I've ever had. He made me laugh on a daily basis and was always supportive of me. He was a great teacher of the game, most notably his knowledge of the perfect punch shot." The team was eager to learn trick shots from Coach Moe and made the occasional trip to Sweet CeCe's after practices The players agree that the match against St. Cecilia was their most memorable. The match lasted three and a half hours, but of course the Honey Bears came through victoriously. The season concluded as two girls made it to the state! This was Coach Moe's last golf season, and he will be greatly missed. Alexis Hawkins says, "We will always cherish his laughter, presence, and overall joy for the game of golf."

CAN YOU PUNT IT?

THE UPPER SCHOOL HONEY BEARS THROW IT DOWN DURING THE 2010 SOCCER SEASON.

Coach Evan, Coach Lucas, and Coach West pushed the team to their limit, and drove them to succeed. The hard work and excruciating practices paid off as the team was able to defeat their biggest rival, Father Ryan. After a devastating loss to Father Ryan last year, the team was apprehensive for the big game on senior night. The teams were tied until we finally scored. The seniors strongly lead and supported the team throughout the season, and they will be missed next year. It is a soccer team tradition to pass down "bob" a lucky jersey that is handed from seniors to freshmen every four years- a token of good luck. As the jersey was passed down, the seniors reminisced on one of the best seasons of their lives, "the friendships made off the field with the underclassmen are incredible. We were a TEAM we worked as a team."

"This was the most fun that I have had on a team in a long time. We didn't have one star player that we centered around, and that was one of the things that I loved about this years team as opposed to previous years," Julia Ann Meadows.

KICKIN' FOR A VICTORY

A season with a bunch of new players and a team of 20 strong, the soccer team was victorious over many Nashville teams. The JV team even beat our biggest rivals, Ensworth. Varsity lost by the slightest margin to make it to the semi finals of the HVAC tournament. Eighth graders, Sammy Flynn, Jaclyn Sherman, Morgan Dalton, Stephanie Davis, Meredith Dalton, Kate Goldenring, Mchale Morss, Emma Purett, Grace Turner finished the year strong while being a middle school Honeybear for the last time. With a strong forward offense and a stellar goalie, these eighth graders led the team as dedicated leaders. Highlights of the season include a shutout over Nashville Christian and a tie with BA. "Our best game was the game we played against BGA. It was an exciting game, and both teams played exceptionally well. We were very excited, and I was proud of us all that day," says Kathryn Copeland.

The volleyball team started the season strong with new coach, Jenny Gray, by the Bears' side. Led by five great seniors–Eliza Taylor, Cara Moses, Neely Duffey, Caroline Allen, and Laura Mullen–the team concluded their season 12-5. Eliza Taylor led the team as the setter, holding the captain position both on and off the court. She ends the season with 385 assists, averaging 8.5 assists per game. Laura Mullin, the bears' dominating outside attacker, completed the senior roster with her strong leadership. Margaret Lowe described the team as "really close, probably the closest it has ever been." Coach Gray described the season by saying, "the senior class has left a legacy in theprogram. Their leadership and determination led the team to their most successful season in recent years."

SERVING THEIR WAY TO VICTORY

The MS Bears began each game by shouting, "the will to win cannot be beat ya gotta wanna win," in order to intimidate their opponents. Coach Ross led the A Team to endless spirit and excitement. "Coach Ross was a loving and supporting person who made sure the team came first," said Madeline Komisar '16. The A team was made up of nine diligent athletes which consisted of six 8th graders and three 7th graders. The girls proved to be very hardworking and stayed happy even if they were losing. Grace Pollock '15 said, "We were all so peppy and full of excitement. We always cheered each other up if we missed a pass or serve." In addition to the success of the A team, the JVA, coached by Amy Pearson, demonstrated their dominance as well. The team composed of 12 7th graders won the JV tournament. They nudged into the the championship portion of the tournament through another team's forfeit. Then, they never looked back and took the title home.

The Honeybears circle up in preparation to dominate in their match. Grace McCaskill put it best when she said, "My team can best be described as: Understanding. Understanding because no matter what, we never got mad at each other and understood that sometimes we might lose or make a mistake but we will never stop trying. "

"Bang, bang, RE-LOAD"... the team's cheer after an ace. Grace Pollock and Dane Setzer lead the way on the cheer as everyone joins in after a Tara Lang ace.

Talk about JV and JVA teams... The middle school sported 4 volleyball teams this year, in addition to a 5th and 6th grade developmental team. So many teams, so little time, just a 6 week volleyball seaon set by the HVAC. Both the JVA and B volleyball teams won their respective tournaments, with the B tournament hosted here at school. To keep it in perspective, that is 5 teams sharing 2 gyms, including the US team. With practice time limited and fundamentals vital, coaches and players continually work on their approach, setting, serving, attacking and blocking game.

ALL WE DO IS WIN

NO MATTER WHAT

To describe the Honey Bear basketball team, just ask Stephanie Seeley. She says, "We are a family. We've spent so much time together and we've all become really close. We weren't a big team this year, so we really had to depend on each other for support and encouragement." The team agrees that their best game this season was the winning game against Ensworth, at Ensworth's home court. Emily Apple comments on the game," Every single person on the team felt like they had something to contribute, and the team chemistry made it obvious that no one cared about personal performance- it was all about being a part of something bigger than ourselves." Seniors Campbell Mobley and Stephanie Seeley provided great leadership and the team worked together throughout the season. Coach Sutton and Coach Anne also continually reminded the players during practices, "Do the little things because hard work beats talent when talent doesn't work hard."

Above: On the sideline, Whatley Hamilton, Erin Anderson, CiCi Rutherford, Emily Apple, Sam Hopp, Kennedy Potts, and Campbell Mobley cheer for the girls on the court, hoping they will bring victory.
"Stephanie and Campbell were two of the greatest leaders ever. No matter what, both of them were there for everyone. They kept the team together and made us work hard every day," says Emily Apple when describing her seniors.

When asked her favorite game, Stephanie Seeley responds with, "Beating ENSWORTH! Although not everyone played, we were all 'in the game' We played for each other and left everything on the court."

The 7th and 8th grade basketball team bonded throughout the season. The girls played hard, worked together, and had great support from their coaches. Delaney Jacoway describes the practices, "(they were) hard with a lot of running, but fun in a way that made you keep going." As a team tradition, their coach would email them a pep talk before each game. The players' opinion of their best game ranges from the game against Ensworth to the one against GPS. During their game against GPS, the team was down by twenty points, but made a huge comeback and won! The team created a bond that they carried onto the court.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GRADE HONEYBEARS PLAY TO WIN

The Fifth and Sixth Grade A Team enjoyed a respectable season this year after a return of many players from last year. The season started off on a rather rough note with headlines like "Honey Bears Struggle Against BA" and "Great Game Ends in Tough Overtime Loss." However, as the season hit the halfway mark, the team caught fire, catching headlines such as "Fifth and Sixth Grade A Team Notch Key Win" and "Bears End Regular Season with Back to Back Wins." In the MCAC Tournament, the A Team defeated USN in a thrilling seven point come from behind victory in the fourth quarter. The girls all learned a great deal about the importance of every possession and teamwork and finished the season with a 4-7 record.

CAN YOU GET A STRIKE?

THE BEARS DOMINATED THE LANES AT STRIKE AND SPARE THIS SEASON AND INTIMIDATED ALL OF THEIR OPPONENTS

It can be easy for the bowling team to be over looked, but with five lanes for practice, the bowlers had quite an exciting season this year. Only having one squad, the team was made up of a variety of girls. Whether it was the most dedicated bowler or the girl who came for the free pizza, everyone got serious when the rival team arrived. Intimidated game faces were put on, and the stretches began. In the past years, the bowlers have a had a tough time beating JP2, but this year the team brought their A-game. Not only did the Honey Bears beat JP2 at their lanes, but it was the highest team total pin count. Although a big fan crowd wasn't expected at the matches, a few students become dedicated cheerleaders. Especially Alexandra Thornton, teammate and fan, who dressed up in the Honey Bear Costume for the game against the big rival, DCA. The bowlers team spirit and dedication showed proudly as they ended their season strong.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

TEDIOUS PRACTICES LEAD TO PERFECT STROKES AND DIVES

With one of the longest seasons of hard practices and long meets, the swim team is still very dedicated to their coaches and teammates. Made up of thirty-six girls, the team was very supportive of each other and when not swimming were always cheering. Everyday the Bearacudas practice at Centennial Sportsplex while Coach Linden helped each and everyone of them become a better swimmer. One of the swimmers writes, "Polly is the best coach I have ever had. She knows how to keep us all under control, but is the most fun to have around. The team would not be the same without her, and she has pushed me to be my best." All of the girls worked their hardest this year and became a very close-knit team. Even from early in the season, it was obvious that this team would have more depth than the Bearacudas had seen in recent years. Being in the highest division, this small , yet strong team swam against the largest and strongest, but were always confident they could beat them all. With their loud hoots and hollers, they were no doubt the loudest and most spirited.

Though not all HVAC schools have a swim team, the MS Bearacudas were undefeated in the regular season and finished 2nd Middle School Southeastern Championship Meet. The team trained hard for many weeks to achieve their high rankings. The swimmers agree that the team had a fun and supportive atmosphere that was crucial to their success. Swimmer Adrienne May tells about her swimming experience, "Before Harpeth Hall I had never swam competitively, and everyone was so nice to me on my first meet; now I try to make an effort to do the same. I love the swim team, even if we are a small group; we are the strongest, toughest, and coolest girls out there. I am so glad to be included in a group as awesome as the Bearacudas."

EIGHT SENIORS STRONG, WATCH OUT HERE WE COME

The 2011 lacrosse team took their season seriously as they continually attacked their opponents and fought till the clock ran out. As the team returned eight senior starters, the Honey Bears realized their potential as a competitive team.When Coach Vest recognized all of her players at the lacrosse dinner, she said "This team will be remembered for its creativity on offense and fierce defense. Smooth, flow, fluid, balletic, speed, drive and passion are the choice words to describe our season thus far. Play hard and leave it on the field, Bears!!!" The lax girls finished the season with a long and hard fought battle against Hutchison, but left the field with their heads raised and teammates embraced. Senior Olivia Reeve said, "Though we didn't win state like we had hoped, I am really proud of us and our season. We have never played so well together and we grew so much as teammates and friends on and off the field."

US SOFTBALL GIRLS ARE YOUNG BUT MIGHTY

If pre-season seemed short in the past, then it was almost non-existent this year, just when they needed it most. Spring showers saw all of their scrimmages canceled, save two rain-drenched innings in Ashland City. And so as the softball season officially opened, they left for spring break. As it was, they returned from spring break and played our first games in a tournament in Clarksville. For the Honeybears, that was the pre-season they never had, where they were able to make adjustments to their offensive and defensive line-ups, learn their signals, get over their early season jitters, and gain some necessary experience. Their closest game thus far this season was against their cross-town rival, Ensworth. Having taken the lead back in the fifth, it was up to the Honeybear defense to shut down the Tiger offense for the win. Excellent hitting, heads-up baserunning, strong pitching, and a solid defensive effort all combined for an exciting victory. Although this year the softball team was young, they learned their strengths and worked on their weaknesses to finish out the season.

THEY SLIDE, DIVE, CATCH, AND HIT LINE DRIVES. THE SOFTBALL GIRLS DO IT ALL!

The Middle School softball team had a fun season this year. They grew as a team and each girl got to know everyone. They spent many days doing warm-ups, practicing throwing, infield and outfield exercises and scrimmaging with each other. The girls practiced hard and played harder. Their last game together was played against BA. A win was not brought home, but the girls had a blast playing together and having fun. Led by eighth graders Olivia Caldwell, Meredith Dalton, Morgan Dalton, Maggie Johnson, Meredith Martineau, Cat Morgan, Emma Purett and Ashley Willimas. They were described as great leaders throughout the season and helped each teammate succeed. One of the team's rituals was standing outside the dugout and clapping for each girl as they threw the ball back to the pitcher. In being asked to describe her team in one word, Kelly Short said "fierce!"

SERVE AND VOLLEY

THE HONEYBEARS LOVE, FIFTEEN, THIRTY, FORTY, AND DEUCE

"The Bears successfully finished the season with a record of five and three!" Coach Baker said at the Athletic Banquet. "Despite rain and thirty degree weather back in March, the Bears regained the Patty Chadwell Invitational title! It was great to bring this trophy back to the hands of Miss Patty. This year in particular, the Bears have had some great showings from the underclassmen. Anna LeBleu is currently 11-2 in singles having played anywhere from the #1 to #4 positions. Liza Southwick has also shown great progress & maturity on the court in both singles and doubles. We look forward to the continued success and growth of this team. There has been much improvement in doubles play which has only spilled over to individual play. Seniors Kelsea best and Lexi Mossman will be greatly missed next season. We will miss them both very much and wish them good luck on their next path."

Above: Litton Whitaker uses her bodies stamina to control the ball and win a point.

"I would say that the tennis team is the closest team at school. We have so much fun together! We laugh so much and make so many memories and we are all completely supportive of one another. This season has been so fun!" said Kelsea Best.

"The tennis team is truly a family. Even though it is an individual sport we are a team. Everyone supports each other through the up and the downs," said Jessica Goldenring.

SET, SERVE, ACE

MIDDLE SCHOOL TENNIS DOMINATES

The Middle School tennis team worked hard, practicing day after day to perfect their swings and serves. The triumphant A team was lead by experienced coach Lia Southwick as well as devoted eighth graders Sammy Flynn, Lizzy LeBleu, Jaclyn Sherman, Kate Goldenring, Cara Southwick, Catherine Falls, and Ally Burch. They won the HVAC tournament for the second year in a row, dominating at their singles and doubles. Both the JV A and JV B teams also worked hard in practice and performed well throughout the year. Hannah Huth, a member of the JV A team, recounts her experiences: "This was such a great team. Although some practices were tough and physically demanding, I always had a good time."

Emma Himes and Isabella Grande relax after their winning doubles match.

Coach Lia Southwick goes over plays with the team in between matches. The girls listen intently as they are told what they need to do to win the match.

Middle top: With fabulous form, Erin Anderson clears the hurdle with plenty of extra height.

Middle bottom: Katherine Ferguson struts with the baton. She is well aware that "you gotta strut like ya mean it."

Top Right: Delaney McBride stirs up some sand in the long jump.

Bottom Right: Liza Hall strikes a pose. So silly, so silly!

Middle: Margaret McDowell uses muscle strength to reach new heights in pole vaulting. Her young gymnastics training really paid off!
Below: Sydney Solarek finds her niche this season and dominates the triple jump.

TO THE FINISH LINE

THE ONLY PLACE THE TRACK TEAM KNOWS

With the cicadas cheering them on, the Upper School track team sped through the season. Girls ran in relays, individual sprints, longer runs like the 1600 and 3200, and hurtles. Other girls competed in the long jump, high jump, pole vault, shot put, and discus. Several girls, including Margaret McDowell and Kaitlyn Williams, set a high example for the rest of the team. Both girls beat their own personal record, the school record in their events, and then continued on to win the regional meet. The seniors on the 2011-2012 team are sure to be unstoppable! Taylor Heinze had a raving review of the season. She shares, "our team was young, mainly comprised of freshmen and sophomores, but we really pulled everything off. Although we had a young team, we still competed confidently against the best of the best."

"Track as a sport has increased my physical and mental health and has perpetuated my love of running," said Katherine Denney.

"Track was really competitive this year, and I feel like I improved as a runner," said Kate Richardson.

ON YOUR MARKS, GET SET, SPRINT!

HONEY BEARS RACING TO NEW HEIGHTS

Sarah Gorham gets in the zone as she prepares for the gun at the start of the race.

Blair McFadden stays focused in her leg of the relay.

Katie Nicholson sprints the straightaway and pushes herself to finish the race strong.

Jordan Lesh, who ran on both the 5/6 and 7/8 track teams, hurdles her way to victory in the FRA relays up on the hill in cold rainy weather.

Top: Courtney Dunn vaults to new heights.
Main: Lark Morrison stays steady as she strides to the finish line.

Can you bolt?

THE HONEY BEARS FINISH RUNNERS UP IN THE HVAC CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

In his first year at Harpeth Hall and as the head 7th and 8th grade track coach, Coach Romero inspired his team to push themselves beyond their limits on and off the track. The track team admits that while challenging, their practices enabled them to enhance their running abilities. The team's motto "earn your respect" rang true for the team throughout the physically demanding and rewarding season. Their perseverance paid off as they finished runner up in the HVAC meet. The team's 4X400 relay even broke the record! Reagan Freeman said the most fun part of the season was, "Just seeing all my friends and everyone at practices and meets." The Honey Bears showed their talent and hard work by having another great season.

A smooth hand-off is the key to success in relay.

Mary Margaret Crabb keeps up her pace.

SPRINT TO THE FINISH LINE!

YOUNG HONEY BEARS RUN, THROW, AND JUMP

Helena Blevins focuses to clear the bar.

Kyra Blake Freeman takes a breather as she prepares for her next race.

Trevey Hewett receives encouragement from her coach to take the lead.

The young honey bears had a great track season this year, placing third in their league. Many of the girls were new to track; therefore, a lot of the season was spent training and getting used to each event. "The seasoned sixth graders spent a lot of time helping me teach the fifth graders how to run," said Coach Graves. The girls enjoyed trying hard to reach their personal goals. Abigail Mawae '18 said, "Personally, the highlight of the year was just trying to finish the 400 meter without giving up." The girls could choose from many events. Carly Barringer '17 said, "My favorite event was high jump because I loved the rush of jumping over the pole and making it." Throughout the season, the girls grew as a team while learning how to run and compete in meets.

ordyn Lesh races

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise.

If you can dream, and not make dreams your master,
If you can think, and not make thoughts you aim,
If you can meet with triumph and disaster,
And treat those two imposters just the same,
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools;

.....Yours is the earth and everything that is in it.
And which is more, you'll be a woman, my daughter!
